Supplements to the Decalogue.

Our social organization has devel-pped to a stage where the old right-cousness is not enough. We need an annual supplement to the Decalogue. The growth of credit institutions, the spread of fiduciary relations, the eumeshing of industry in law, the inter-lacing of government and business, the multiplication of boards and inspect-ors, beneficent as they all are, they in-vite to sin. What gateways they open to greed! What fresh parasites they let in on us! How idle in our new situation to intone the old litanies. The reality of this close knit life is not to be seen and touched; it must be thought. The sins it opens the door to are to be discerned by knitting the brows rather than by opening the eyes. It takes imagination to see that bogus medical diploma, lying advertisement and fake testimonial are death dealing instruments. It takes imagination to see that savings bank wrecker, loan shark and investment swindler in taking livelihoods take lives. It takes imagination to see that the business of debauching voters, fixing juries, seducing lawmakers and corrupting public servants is like sawing through the props of a crowded grand stand.-E A. Ross in Atlantic.

The church built of coral is one of the curiosities of the Isle of Mahe, one of the Seychelies islands, in the Indian ocean. The Seychelles islands, which are supposed by many to be the site of the Eden of the Old Testament form an archipelago of 114 islands and are situated about 1,400 miles east of Aden and 1,000 miles of Zanzibar They rise steeply out of the sea, culmi uating in the Isle of Mahe, which is about 3,000 feet above the level of the ocean and is nearly the center of the group. All these islands are of coral The houses are built of a Strong glass plates are bored through by means of rotating brass tubes of the necessary diameter, which are filled with water during boring. To the water there is added finely pul-verized emery. It is said that thinner glass can be perforated with holes in an easier manner by pressing a disk of wet clay upon the glass and making a hole through the clay of the widths desired, so that at that spot the glass is laid bare. Then molten lead is poured into the hole, and lead and glass drop down at once. This method is based upon the quick local heat-ing of the glass, whereby it obtains a circular crack, the outline of which corresponds to the outline of the hole made in the clay. The cutting of glass tubes, cylinders, etc., in factories is based upon the same principle.

Moderation In Exercise. It is better to be lazy than dead, and it is probably just as comfortable. For obvious reasons the prescription to take moderate exercise is misleading and unsatisfactory.
